 I admire the dog named Bear very much. He is brave and smart.because of his sensitive smell and great at picking out a koala's scent, he saved many injured koalas in a fire, and won the award of the International Fund for Animal Welfare. Dogs are really good partners and can help us a lot, aren' t it ?

All human beings are born free and equal , no matter what they look like or can do. Everyone is born equal and will not be restricted by anyone. There are often incidents of violations of others in history. These have become our reference. In this era, human rights are unique, so it is important to actively promote human rights education in our country.

After reading this report, I found that the original electricity in New Zealand was mostly renewable energy, so New Zealand is a very suitable country for green energy. Moreover, he used this technology to make an all-electric flight and broke the world record. It's really awesome. I hope I can take an electric flight in the future.

Hyperbaric oxygen therapy mainly uses changes in pressure to increase the oxygen dissolved in the plasma by physical phenomena, thereby enhancing the memory and thinking ability of patients, and can substantially improve Alzheimer's patients over 65 years old. I think this method is great, and it allows those patients with dementia to retrieve the good memories of the past.

 In quest of a greener environment, many countries do their best to protect the earth. However, New Zealand has a lot of green energy due to its geographical environment. They also use the energy where the earth currently needs. Hope that every country can develop more ways to protect the earth in the future. And, everyone is responsible for protecting the earth.

After I read this article, I think that the patient are so poor. Because of this disease, they can't remember things well. That is the most terrible part because you can't remember your family, either. Thanks to this solution, they can finally get rid of the disease little time. But it will recurrence, so that will be a long road to get well.

With the advancement of modern technology, some air pollution is often brought about. However, at the end of October this year, the clarion call of the era of environmental protection was finally blown. All-electric flight technology was adopted to further maintain the original beauty of the earth.

Sometimes people can use a peaceful way to get what they want, use violent methods of violence only cause injury and make you exhausted. I think singing is a good way to express their spirit, national song let them feel stronger to fight for their freedom and it attract more supporters, the best is no one get hurt, and they also succeed in the protest.

「I heard that」, as the name suggests, it is said from others instead of witnessing it with your own eyes. Sometimes, what is said from others is not necessarily correct. If it is not verified clearly, it may cause harm to others. So we should not blindly listen to others or transfer things that haven't been verified. We should provide correct information, share information correctly, and be responsible for our own words.

In recent year ,we can see a large amount of the garbage in everywhere.This is an important issue.Even though I don't know much, this questions that are closely related to us. We have responsibility to solve it. The fundamental way is not to litter.Littering may cause environment pollution. It hurts not only mankind but also nature. We have only one earth. If we don't take action now,I can't believe what would be earth

After reading this article , now the earth has global warming and the sea level is raising because we all use plastic bags . This article says that they take waste from agriculture , such as leftover starch , and turn it into plastic - like materials. I think this is a good idea , which can replace plastic bags .We still have to sort the garbage to protect the earth. Don't let the earth continue to deteriorate.

All we can do is not just keep the street clean, we can participate in some parade
, club or even write letters to the city government.
Protecting the environment is not for one person,
but for everyone
